About one month ago the two societies united themselves to better cope with large companies. It was decided to continue the fight.

Coal Miners at Work in Clearfield County.

OSCEOLA, CLEARFIELD CO., PA., April 21.—The miners in this region are all working with a reduced force, under the protection of special police, at the old rate, fifty cents per ton. A great many miners are leaving for other parts to seek employment.

He struck upon his abdomen, and rebounded two or three feet, and then sank to rise no more. He is thought to be a vagrant, who has relatives in the vicinity of Oxford.

FIRST EDITION.

THE BEECHER TRIAL.

The Examination of the Defendant Concluded.

An Interview and Correspondence with Mrs. Woodhull.

Testimony of a Bank Cashier.

"Spoils of New Friends for the Enrichment of the Old."

NEW YORK, April 21, 1875.

The Tilton-Beecher trial was resumed to-day before a packed house, and the cross-examination of Mr. Beecher continued: I saw Victoria Woodhull in June, 1871, at Tilton's; I had an interview with her there; I think this was after the publication of her card: I think the interview lasted ten minutes; I saw her next in the autumn of 1871, about the 20th of October, I think, the time of the yacht race; I cannot say if I saw her between those interviews. [Shown letter.] I think this is the letter I received from her, though I am not conversant with her handwriting.

Mr. Fullerton read the letter, dated November 15, 1871, in which she desired to have an interview with him, asking justice from those who have a right to give it to her, and asking him to assist in getting justice done her.

Witness said: I took this letter to Moulton, and said I would have to write an answer; he dissuaded me from writing, and said he could manage it for me; I understood he was to see her personally; there was some motion towards making an answer, but he took it off my hands; I saw Mrs. Woodhull next morning at Moulton's; he had then and said I must see her; she was either there or came in afterwards; the interview was in the second story front room and lasted about half an hour; I suppose I went home after the interview; I saw Moulton and Tilton go down stairs at the termination of that interview, and saw them, I think, in the parlor; I think Mrs. Woodhull took a carriage away from the house.

Another letter was handed the witness, and he said: This, I think, is a communication I received from Mrs. Woodhull; I think I spoke to Moulton and Tilton about this interview in the parlor, at least my impression is that way.

Mr. Fullerton read a letter, dated December 12, 1871, in which Mrs. Woodhull asked him to preside at the Steinway Hall meeting.

The witness said: I wrote an answer to this letter of Mrs. Woodhull's.

Mr. Fullerton also read a letter from witness to Moulton, enclosing a letter of Mrs. Woodhull, dated January 13, 1872.

Consultation with Moulton.

Witness then testified: I consulted Moulton about the Christian Union, and wanted him to take some stock, besides consulting him about scandal matters; I consulted him about other things connected with the scandal, but cannot recall them; when I enclosed Mrs. Woodhull's letter to Moulton of January 2, I did so because it related to a scandal letter from Mrs. Woodhull, accompanied by one from my sister; it was a matter of considerable discussion, but the idea of a consultation with a third party did not enter into my mind; Moulton thought it would be a good thing for me to go; I do not recollect that he said that it would be an opportunity for me to exert my influence over this woman; I told Mrs. Moulton that her husband and Tilton thought a good deal of Mrs. Woodhull, and that she might be but that my first experience of her was not favorable; I told Mrs. Woodhull it was not my habit to preside at public meetings, and I saw no reason to change my habit in respect to her; she urged that it was an occasion of reform in public views, and declared I was in sympathy with them, but I told her I was not in sympathy with them. The question Mrs. Moulton asked me was what I thought of Mrs. Woodhull, and that Frank wanted her in the house, and I said that I did not have any thoughts about her, and that if Frank wanted to have her in the house, that her coming there could not have any influence on her (Mrs. Moulton); I cannot say how many times I saw Mrs. Woodhull after the Steinway Hall meeting; (shown a letter) I think this was written by me; it looks like my letter.

Mr. Fullerton then read a letter from Brooklyn of January 1, 1872, and written to Mrs. Woodhull, informing her of the receipt of her letter of December 30, 1871, and telling her he was unable to go to Washington on account of lecture engagements of his in New England.

Witness said this letter was written after the Steinway Hall meeting; I received it from Mrs. Woodhull enclosing one from Mrs. Hooker, my sister; in the summer of 1873 my health was good, as I remember; I have often entered the pulpit, but never made the statement in that period that I had entered it one hundred times in which I never expected to leave it alive.

Mr. Fullerton read from witness' statement of last summer, in which he said he often expected never to leave the pulpit alive; that he was often and would often have fallen if he had not caught the sides, and that he often came nigh falling in the streets. The statement also referred to the last time he saw Mrs. Tilton, feeling he would never again see her alive.

Witness continued: I have for a long time had violent symptoms which I misinterpreted and which are delusive; at the time I wrote this statement I did not put forth these symptoms as reasons for my letter of February 5, 1871, to Mrs. Tilton, and what it expressed to her in not being alive many days; my physicians told me about it, and I became convinced that my symptoms arose from cerebral over-action; I do not recall that any physician removed my fear of apoplexy; I do not apprehend now that I shall die of apoplexy; I got rid of that impression before '71 or '72, or before that; when I wrote the letter I had a strong premonition that my end was drawing near; I spoke then, as I often do, in sadness, and at other times in gladness; the instrument by which I expected to be removed was by the sovereign hand or God; I did not expect I would be but as Henry Ward Beecher would be if God took him; after this apprehension of death I do not recall if I made any insurance on my life, nor do I remember if I insured my life after 1870 at all; an application was made by Ford & Co. for insurance on my life in 1874. I suppose I was interrogated by the agent; but do not remember getting through an examination.

Mr. Evarts interrupted here, and said this was not witness' application for insurance on his life, but of some other person.

Mr. Fullerton said he was aware of this, and would read part of it in evidence.

Mr. Evarts contended that the question with regard to Beecher's symptoms was not collateral, and the introduction of insurance paper was extra-judicial.

Judge Neilson said counsel could use this paper for the purpose of directing witness to what he remembered.

Mr. Fullerton then read questions and answers contained in the insurance paper, among which was a long list of diseases, and in regard to which witness had been questioned and followed by the answer "No." The paper was signed H. W. Beecher and J. B. Ford & Co.

End of the Cross-Examination.

Mr. Fullerton announced at 12:30 that this closed the cross-examination of the witness.

Mr. Evarts said the re-direct examination would take but a short time, and that the next witness would be Cleveland. He then read the insurance paper aloud in a methodical manner, laying great stress on the answer given. The date of the paper was the 14th of March.

Re-direct Examination.

I had no interest in this insurance. My "Life of Christ," I presume, was in the publishers' minds when they effected this interest on my life. There was a year in which I had certain symptoms from overwork, which I thought were those of apoplexy, and besides I have a short neck, and my friends are very anxious about me. There were times when I had impressions that my life was coming to an end from these symptoms. During the winter of 1870-71 there was no sister of mine keeping house for me. When Mrs. Beecher left for the South she made arrangements for conducting the affairs of the house by servants in her absence.

Beecher's Advice to Mrs. Tilton.

Mr. Evarts then read the whole of the note Beecher sent by his wife to Mrs Tilton advising her about a separation from her husband, the last portion of which was not read in the cross-examination, in which only a portion was used.

Witness said: Mrs. Tilton never denied having an undue affection for me, either orally or in writing, on the night of December 30, 1870.

Mr. Fullerton objected to this method of questioning witness, and a brief argument ensued.

Witness then testified: I had received no oral denial of the engagement of her affections during 1871, 1872 or 1873.

A Large Correspondence.

I received in general from one hundred and fifty to two hundred letters a day from different parties. In my absence these letters were laid by servants on the back parlor table. If there were anonymous letters I threw them aside, and if they were letters about lectures or business I handed them over to my wife. Any letters to be answered I laid aside to be answered. A few of the important church meetings I attended, but I put generally on itself, to be attended to by it, but always gave advice if it was needed. The only active part I took was in the matter between sister churches and my church. I did not read the investigating committee's report, as it was not my habit to read a scandal paper. I was in the White Mountains when the report was made. I was satisfied when I heard that I had been acquitted and that the church was happy. I never latterly read any papers or articles that were published about me. Moulton made suggestions to me orally, and submitted to me drafts of statements. After the Bacon letter was published, to meet these difficulties later than this, and with reference to the situation after the Bacon letter, Moulton wanted me to write a card and said that Tilton would be satisfied. After this nothing was said. I determined on having a committee of investigation in December, 1873, and terminated Cleveland's connection with me. He was in a paper warehouse in 1874. He also owned one share in the Christian Union Publishing Company. Before the committee was called I could not say if I talked with Cleveland about the payment of $5,000. I should say now that I did not talk with him about it. After 1871 the intercourse between Mrs. Tilton and myself was as little personal as possible, and in that intercourse I never made any allusion to past difficulties, but cheered and encouraged her, and excited in her religious feelings as the best methods of counteracting the state of affairs in her house. I understood when the $5,000 was paid that it was needed to keep the Golden Age afloat and carry it through. (To one of the jurors.) When I made the mortgage on my house I think my wife joined me in the transaction. This was in a jocose conversation between my wife and myself. When the mortgage was talked about my wife asked for what it was wanted. I told her it was all right.

Admitting the Offense and Apologizing

The re-direct examination here closed, and a recess was taken.

Samuel White Partridge's Testimony.

After the recess Samuel White Partridge was sworn as a witness for the defense. He was employed by Woodhull & Robinson from September, 1849, until the 31st of December last. He was cashier of that house. He received on deposit a check of seven thousand dollars drawn by Mr. Bowen in June, 1872. A slip of paper accompanied it. He identified a check shown him as the check in question. He also identified the slip of paper mentioned.

Mr. Evarts offered to read this slip, and Mr. Beach objected.

Mr. Evarts said that he wished to explain the transaction relating to this check, and that he would prove, if this slip was not admitted, that this slip was in Tilton's handwriting.

Judge Neilson said that he did not see how this was material.

After further discussion the paper was handed to Judge Neilson, who said it might be read in evidence.

"Spoils."

Mr. Evarts read the paper as follows: "Spoils of new friends for the enrichment of the old." He called the attention of the jury to the fact that the pin holes in this paper and the check exactly correspond.

Judge Neilson remarked that this was one of those remote collateral matters which had been gone over again and again until his very soul was wearied.

The witness then continued: I do not remember whether these papers were connected when they came to me. I remember the publication of "Mrs. Woodhull's Life" by Tilton, and speaking with Moulton about it. Mr. Moulton said to me something about Tilton's object in writing the "Life of Woodhull."

The Counsel at Logger-Heads.

The witness was then asked what Moulton said to this.

Mr. Beach objected, and Mr. Evarts contended that he wanted to show that it was a motive of Tilton's own to write this work.

Mr. Beach said admitting that Moulton and Tilton were concerned in this, the declarations of a third party against a party to the suit could not be given unless for purposes of impeachment. The evidence in the case was that Moulton protested against Tilton writing and publishing it, and when it was done he blamed Tilton for it. This was an action entered upon by Tilton alone and deprecated by Moulton, and therefore it could not be admitted as being collateral evidence.

After a little further argument on the subject, Judge Neilson decided to rule it out for the present.

Mr. Evarts continued his argument, and offered to prove by this witness that Moulton told him that Tilton wished to put himself at the head of the Spiritualists, as they were far more numerous than the Congregationalists, and that for this purpose he had published the "Life of Victoria Woodhull," and the point in this testimony was that Tilton assigns as a reason which was asseverated by Moulton.

Mr. Evarts said he did not call this witness to contradict Moulton, but to show Tilton's motives in writing the publication. The counsel's proposition was to show that the publication was not for Beecher's interest, but for Tilton's ambition to put himself at the head of the Spiritualists of this country.

Mr. Evarts read a portion of Moulton's direct testimony relating to the publication of the Woodhull story and the efforts made to suppress it.

Mr. Beach replied to Mr. Evarts, and said that the counsel on the other side argued as if these two gentlemen were conspirators, when they were only coadjutors working together for a common end. Mr. Beach also quoted from Moulton's direct testimony, and in regard to which counsel said there was no act in it to show that Moulton concurred in this publication. It expressly appeared that Moulton discountenanced and disapproved of it.

Judge Neilson ruled that this witness could only be used in contradiction of anything Moulton had said, and he would be confined to this.

The witness then said: I remember the payment of $5,000 into the firm, but I did not know it was Beecher it came from. I carried the credit of $5,000 to Moulton, by his directions. Moulton told me the next day to make a check for $10,000 to T. T. and charge it to his name.

This was all the defense had to ask witness, and he was allowed to go without cross-examination.

Mr. Evarts said their next witness was Mr. Cleveland, and as it was now near the hour of separation, he suggested that he should not be called until to-morrow.

This was concurred in, and the Court adjourned.

CHICAGO.

A Government Detective Arrested for Enticing a Girl from Her Home—A Libel Case Decided.—Billiard Tournament.

CHICAGO, April 21.—The Superintendent of Police of this city received a telegram some time ago from A. W. Cairns, of Buffalo, asking him to watch the motions of Joseph Henderson, a Government detective, who had enticed away his (Cairns') daughter from her home. Captain Buckley detailed an officer to look after the matter. His observations resulted in the arrest this morning of Henderson, who is held until Cairns' arrival, and the discovery of the girl in a house of ill-fame in this city.

General Sheridan arrived in this city this morning.

The jury in the case of Alice A. Early, of Rockford, Ills., against Wilbur F. Storey, editor of the Chicago Times, for libel in the publication of a story nearly a year ago, in which Miss Early's character was assailed, brought in a sealed verdict, which was opened this morning. It awarded the plaintiff $25,000 damages. The article on which the case was based was written under the belief that the story was true, several letters affirming its truth, and signed by the names of prominent citizens of Rockford, having been sent to the Times. A retraction was subsequently published, but proved insufficient to satisfy the injured party, who resorted to legal means of redress, with the above result.

In the billiard tournament this afternoon, Miller beat Hoa, Parker beat Rhines, and Shaw beat Honing. Score: 200 to 90; winner's average, 10 and 10-19. In the ninth inning, Shaw, by fine playing, scored 86.

President Grant Not a Candidate for a Third Term.

A Washington corespondent says: President Grant is not a candidate for a third term, and never has been. He never suggested the idea himself, and never gave any one the slightest warrant for supposing that he would take the nomination if offered, and it is understood here that if he had ever been asked by any authoritative body he would have declined to be considered a candidate under any circumstances.

The Democrats Again Fomenting Trouble.

Violating their Plighted Faith on the Compromise.

NEW ORLEANS, April 21.—The following telegrams explain themselves:

"NEW ORLEANS, April 20.—Hon. Wm. P. Frye, M. C., Lewistown, Me.—The Democrats have unseated four Republican members to-day. Telegraph me whether, in your opinion, by the agreement signed, the Democrats were to disturb any of the members of the House except those mentioned in the award to go out.

"LEWISTOWN, Me., April 21, 1874.—Hon. S. B. Packard, U. S. Marshal, New Orleans.—By the agreement and the award the status of your Legislature was to remain as we left it. The Democrats violate good faith and their plighted honor in their outrageous attempt to change it.

(Signed) "WM. P. FRYE."

Special Message by the Governor.

Governor Kellogg to-day sent the following special message to both houses of the General Assembly:

"I beg earnestly to impress upon the members of the General Assembly that the term for which they have been convened in extra session is rapidly drawing to a close, and that thus far no salutary measures of public benefit have been adopted. I am informed that bills for the relief of the city of New Orleans, which are recommended by committees representing the commercial and business interests of the city and State, are before you for action. I cannot too urgently remind you of the great importance of giving these measures your immediate and favorable consideration. There is time in the three days yet remaining of the session to take such action as will temporarily remedy many pressing evils, leaving until your regular session the devising of comprehensive plans of general reform. I again respectfully call your attention to the desirability of amending the Funding Law so as to give the mercantile community a representation upon the Funding Board, and so as to enable any person to take steps to prevent the funding of invalid obligations. Permit me to say that it is expected of you, under the circumstances which have brought you together, that the great interests of the State and city shall receive preference in your proceedings over the advancement of party ends, and that our financial condition renders it very undesirable that the term of this session should be extended, nor can it be with justice to the tax-payers or the creditors of the State.

(Signed) "WM. P. KELLOGG, "Governor."

Report of the Investig ting Committee.

The following is one column of the five solid columns of the report of the joint committee appointed at the general session to examine the books of the Auditor and Treasurer, showing the character of the charge against Clinton:

By reference to exhibit "B," it will be seen that the Auditor did receive from the several tax collectors, at various times during the year 1873, taxes amounting to $77,610.18, which he had not paid into the Treasury on the 20th of March, 1874, nor any part thereof, and up to the present date there is no evidence that any more than $32,227.63 of said sum has found its way into the Treasury. We are compelled to infer that the Auditor still retains $45,382.55 of said amount, which in the first instance he received, in violation of the law, and now holds, defrauding the State. His Excellency, the Governor, early in the year 1873, advertised in the official journal, and in the other daily papers, a notice calling upon all holders of legislative vouchers of 1870, 1871 and 1872 to present the same to the Auditor for examination and approval, if found correct, and he stated in his advertisement that he would sign no bill appropriating money for the payment of the same unless the vouchers had been first examined and approved by the Auditor. In response to this public notice, there was presented to the Auditor during the year 1873, for his approval, the amount of $41,900.50. Of this sum the Auditor approved $37,512.50 and disapproved $3,988 (see Auditor's report, page 97). It is well known that many had been issued of this character here referred to; hence the notice given by the Governor to holders of legitimate vouchers to prove up their claims before the meeting of the General Assembly in 1874. It appears that only $37,502.50 of the legitimate vouchers could be found outstanding after advertising for more than six months in the public journals for holders to present them for approval, yet the very day the General Appropriation bill was promulgated, there was presented to the Auditor $1,837,557.33 of these vouchers which had not been before presented, and warrants were promptly issued for them.

Another Remarkable Circumstance

in connection with this affair must not be lost sight of. It is a notorious fact that the Auditor refused to warrant for vouchers he had approved, and to avoid holders who were ready to demand warrants, he kept out of the way till an injunction could be prepared and served prohibiting him from warranting for them. Notwithstanding his manifest reluctance to warrant for claims which he had approved, he readily warranted for $138,557.73 which he had not previously approved. The warrants, issued, as they were, in violation of the Constitution, and in contempt of the order of the Court restraining their issuance, were subsequently funded at the instance of the Auditor, by the Funding Board, of which the Auditor is and was then a member. (See exhibit "C.")

Section 3 of act No. 3 of 1874 reads thus. "That if any member of said Board of Liquidation should knowingly audit and fund any alleged claim against the State, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction, be fined not less than $5,000, at the discretion of the Court, and any person knowingly procuring the same to be done shall be subject to the same penalty."

It will be seen by exhibit "D" from copies of letters attached to the testimony of Mr. Clinton, that the warrants, although dated March 17, 1874, were not delivered till after August, 1874, and by reference to exhibit "C," which is the testimony of the Secretary of the Funding Board, that Mr. Clinton had not signed these warrants at the time he proposed to fund them, which was nearly six months after they were dated. Also by reference to exhibit "E," which is the testimony of Mr. Mooney, who was Warrant Clerk in the Auditor's office, and whose duty it was to draw all warrants, that the writing in the "stub" of the warrant book is not in his handwriting.

Another Suspicious Circumstance connected with the issue of these warrants is the fact that they are all dated the same date, and numbered respectively 2,259, 2,304, 2,345, 2,386, 2,414 and 2,444—six in all. The difference between the highest and lowest number is 140 numbers, while both purport to be issued the same day. Now, the law requires the Auditor to number all warrants progressively, (see section 185, Revised Statutes.) Again, warrant No. 2,606 is dated March 14, 1874, three days earlier than the date of these six warrants, and yet it is a higher number. In the month of September, 1874, the Auditor issued warrants to the amount of $60,300 for maintaining the militia of the State, said to be overdrawn by order of the Superior District Court. It is certain that there was no appropriation against which this amount of warrants was drawn, and the act was an unqualified violation of the Constitution, Article 104, the order of the Court to the contrary notwithstanding. (See exhibit "D.")

Warrants for Illegal Claims.

Your committee find also that the Auditor issued warrants in favor of J. W. Armstrong & Co. for the sum of $10,976.75, while no such sum was due by the State. And further, your committee is of the opinion that the firm of J. W. Armstrong & Co. is a fiction, and has no existence in fact. (See exhibit "G.") And further, this warrant was drawn for supposed expenses of the House against the funds appropriated for the use of the Senate, and drawn, too, after the unexpended balance of the appropriation had lapsed, as provided in act No. 14 of 1872, page 70. That the Auditor has drawn warrants on the Treasurer not authorized by law has been shown. That he has is fully illustrated by exhibit "J." Section 184 of the Revised Statutes reads as follows: "No warrant shall be drawn by the Auditor or paid by the Treasurer unless the money to be paid the same has been previously appropriated by law." And section 186 reads thus: "Should the Auditor knowingly issue any warrant upon the Treasurer not authorized by law, or should he wilfully neglect or refuse to perform any duty enjoined by law, or be guilty of any oppression or extortion, or receive any fee or reward for the performance of any duty not allowed by law, or should he by color of his office knowingly do any act not authorized or in any other manner than required by law, or illegally use or misapply any money belonging to the State, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdeamenor in office, and upon conviction be fined not more than $10,000 and imprisoned not more than five years, and be dismissed from office."

Exhibit "K" is the testimony of T. F. Monroe, who was Clerk of the committee appointed at the session of 1874 to examine the Auditor's books, etc. The committee made no report, but the Clerk testified to the fact the tax collectors paid to the Auditoron account of taxes and licenses for 1873, $430,786.95 more than the Auditor accounted for in his annual report for that year. He also testifies to the fact that the Auditor retained money in his possession ninety days before paying it into the Treasury.

Exhibit "L" is the testimony of L. Guichard, who also figures a large discrepancy between the sums paid by collectors and receipts reported by the Auditor.

Exhibit "F" is a statement of Theo. Lepshertz. He shows that the Auditor paid eighteen clerks of the committees of the House more than the law allows. He also shows that the difference between the accounts of the House Committee on Contingent Expenses and the Auditor's warrants for the same expenditure is $7,070.76.

Legislative Proceedings.

The impeachment resolutions against Auditor Clinton passed the House by yeas 73 to 21 nays.

In the Senate, at a late hour (6 P. M.), after an executive session, the joint resolution impeaching Clinton and suspending him from office was called up, but the Senate adjourned without action.

Gov. Kellogg was on the floor of the Senate during the afternoon, as it is stated, in the interest of Clinton.

An Appeal from Auditor Clinton.

Auditor Clinton addressed an appeal to the House, in which he says: Charges of fraudulent disbursements of public money have been freely made by persons whose wishes I have not acceded to, which I repel as false and slanderous every one of them.

The Auditor then says: I respectfully request and urge that you authorize, by resolution or otherwise, the Presidents of the Cotton and Merchants Exchanges to appoint an expert, known to the commercial community as competent, honest and impartial, thus securing a report satisfactory to the public and justice to me.

This appeal had no effect on the House.

Message from Congressman Wheeler.

Governor Kellogg received a message from Mr. Wheeler regarding the four members unseated yesterday in the House, in which he says:

"I have carefully examined the question of the four members, and while I still remain of the opinion expressed to you and Packard, I feel not at liberty to give a written opinion without the concurrence of my associates.

(Signed.) "W. A. WHEELER."

Col. Packard states that the opinion expressed by Mr. Wheeler was that the four members should return to their seats.

The House appointed a committee to investigate the charges against Judge Hawkins, of the Superior District Court, with the view of impeaching him.

Democratic Inconsistency.

The Republicans claim that the action of the Democrats in unseating four Republicans and seating four Democrats in their places was a gross breach of the plighted faith of that party. They say the Legislature had come together with the same personnel as when it adjourned at the close of the regular session, and had made all the changes recommended in the award. Both bodies had then adopted a resolution that the House should remain without change, except by the resignation or death of members, until a new general election. The Republicans contend that the only argument of any weight offered by the Democrats and majority that carried the measure was that the members unseated had not been returned by the Returning Board, whose other acts that same majority have repeatedly announced as illegal. These Republicans had been seated after the contest, and represented parishes which had heretofore been strongly Republican.

The Republican, in its leader this morning, says: What the result will be is not difficult to predict. The outraged minority in the House have no remedy. In the Senate the relations are reversed, but no one believes the Republicans will put themselves as much in the wrong as their opponents by retaliation on the Democratic minority in that body. But what opportunity in passing measures of reform can such a body as that which now controls the House afford? What guarantees now have the people that the adjustment they believe in will produce harmony in this distracted State? It is plain that the Democrats, in taking the responsibility of breaking faith with the Republicans, have broken the compact, confirmed the truth of the argument that they intended no justice to their opponents, rendered all but partisan legislation impossible, destroyed hope of better days and less bitter feeling, widened the breach between the people of each side, turned the effort for reform into a struggle for office, and defeated every effort for the benefit of the people the compromise was intended to promote.

is prevailing here. The Jackson route has reduced the fare to New York to thirty-five dollars, and made reductions to other points.

A Ship Struck by Lightning.

The ship Hagerstown, loading for Havre, with 5,768 bales of cotton on board, was struck by lightning during a thunder storm this morning, and the cotton set on fire. The hold of the ship was filled with water by the fire department and the fire extinguished. The cargo was partly damaged by water, and is being unshipped. The cargo was insured in Havre.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 21, 1875.

Extension of Postal Car Service.

The Postoffice Department to-day ordered postal car service on the entire length of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad extension from Grafton, W. Va., to Chicago.

The Rumored Resignation of Secretary Delano Denied.

The original report concerning Secretary Delano was based on the statements of several prominent members of Congress, who asserted that certain improper transactions connected with the Department of the Interior had been brought to the attention of the President, and that they were of such a character as to cause an intimation to be conveyed to Secretary Delano that his resignation would be accepted. On the other hand, it is to-night said by intimate friends of the Secretary that before leaving the city last week to join the Presidential party he was not aware that the President desired his resignation, but that if he had received such an intimation he would have promply tendered it; and further, that if any charges had been made against the Department of the Interior involving the official conduct of Delano, the President, from his long and intimate friendship with the Secretary, would not have acted hastily, but afforded him an opportunity to reply before coming to such a conclusion as to desire his resignation.

BALLOON ACCIDENT.

A Dangerous Aerial Voyage—Prof. Donaldson Meets with a Mishap—His Balloon Becomes Unmanageable, and He Cuts It Loose to Save the Car.

ATCO, N. J., April 21.—News has been received here that the basket of Donaldson's balloon has been found some seven miles from here, with the dead body of a man in it, and that the balloon itself was seen going seaward.

BERLIN, N. J., April 21.—Prof. Donaldson is at Cake's Hotel at this place, safe and sound. After leaving Philadelphia the balloon sailed in nearly a southern direction and landed at Conrad's terra cotta works, on the Williamstown Railroad, near Atco, N. J. The balloon became unmanageable, and no assistance being at hand, Prof. Donaldson was obliged to cut the basket loose in order to save it, and the main part of the balloon reascended and was lost. The upper currents of air were very cold—so cold, in fact, that mineral water taken along by the aeronaut was frozen.

FOREIGN NEWS.

A French Economist's Opinion of the American Protective Policy.

Three Men Buried Alive in Mexico.

GREAT BRITAIN.

A French Economist's Opinion of the American Protective Policy.

LONDON, April 21.—The London Chamber of Commerce gave a dinner this evening in honor of its guest, M. Michel Chevalier, the celebrated French economist. M. Chevalier, in reply to a complimentary toast, made a speech, in which he dwelt on the benefits of free trade. He expressed his admiration at the extraordinary progress made by the United States. A nation so anxious to possess all the improvements in public and private life, so eminent for its love of liberty, could not long remain bound to a protective system. Protection was a safeguard to a progressive policy, checked the growth of trade, and restricted the liberties of the producer and consumer. He especially pointed out the inconsistency of Americans in imposing duties on foreign grain, while they attempted to inundate the grain markets of Europe with their products.

MEXICO.

A Horrible Outrage.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 12.—Ten natives of Ixtacalco are on trial here for a horrible outrage. They are charged with burying three men alive, leaving only their heads above ground, and then despatching them with hatchets and knives, after prolonged torture.

Ex-President Thiers.

PARIS, April 21.—The Moniteur says there is no doubt that ex-President Thiers will be elected to the Senate by many departments, and may possibly be chosen to preside over that body, in which event he is sure to hold the position for life.

TEXAS.

Troops Ordered to Assist the Civil Authorities in Preventing Raids by Mexicans.

GALVESTON, April 21.—A special from San Antonio says the following explains itself:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF TEXAS, San Antonio, April 20—To the Governor of Texas: The following is just received from the General of the Army, in answer to one from prominent citizens of Corpus Christi, setting forth the condition of affairs in that portion of Texas:

"Your dispatch of the 19th is received, and will be sent to the Secretary of War for the information of the President. The duty of the troops on the Rio Grande frontier is to protect all officers of the General Government, and as far as possible to aid the State authorities in protecting the people against organized bands of marauders from any quarter. But the State authorities should understand that on them rests the duty in the first instance, and that we only can assist them. Should it be a hostile measure from Mexico, the President may order more troops and a more positive course of action.

R. C. DRUM,
"Assistant Adjutant General."

Please inform me how I can best co-operate with the State authorities in the protection of the frontier. I have ordered troops from Ringgold Barracks and Ft. Brown. The troops should in both cases be accompanied by civil officers, empowered to make arrests. Can you give directions to that effect?

E. O. C. ORD,
Brigadier General.

The following was received to-day.

FORT BROWN, April 21.—Assistant Adjutant General of the Department of Texas, San Antonio, Texas.—Will send my disposable mounted force in the direction of El Sause, Rio Cano. No news of marauders to-day.

J. H. POTTER,
Colonel 24th Infantry, commanding.

GALVESTON, Texas, April 21.—The anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto was celebrated here to-day by a military and firemen's parade. An immense crowd witnessed the display. Appropriate addresses were delivered.

OMAHA.

Travel on the Union Pacific Railroad Resumed—A Transfer Over Six Miles of Break Made by Teams.

OMAHA, April 21.—The Union Pacific Railroad is now in a passable condition, with the exception of about six miles, over which a transfer is being made by teams, between Lawrence and Green river, which will have to be kept up a week or more. One train coming east, having on board one hundred passengers, transferred yesterday afternoon, will reach here to-morrow afternoon. The train delayed at Laramie will reach the transfer this evening. Another train going west, delayed at Cheyenne, left there this morning, and will transfer to-morrow morning. Delayed emigrant trains are being worked westward as fast as possible. The company hope to start one first-class train to-morrow. They are considerably embarrassed on account of the scarcity of cars, but will receive twenty-six cars from New York by Saturday or Sunday, which will partly relieve them. They hope to get all delayed passengers off the road by the middle of next week.

THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 1875.

BONDS at Frankfort 99

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 114⅞.

REPORTS from various parts of the country show that fruit has been quite seriously injured by the recent frosts. Peaches, in many localities, are a complete failure, and other crops are much injured.

GOVERNOR CHAMBERLAIN, of South Carolina, was one of the speakers at the Lexington Centennial banquet, and his remarks were highly patriotic and eloquent. His career, thus far, as Governor has been one of the best.

BEECHER'S cross-examination is ended, and it may be said that he has escaped from the hands of Fullerton comparatively unscathed. Two or three points were made on him, but not with enough force to do him harm. Fullerton's extreme asperity, as we notice elsewhere, prejudiced his case with the public, if not with the jury.

THE importance of having water works that will supply the city with water at all times, and under all emergencies, is freshly illustrated by the difficulties now being experienced. Had not the Democratic House prevented, the necessary work would be rapidly prosecuted, that would speedily supply us with abundant water. Yet we are paying interest on nearly the entire cost of works that cannot be utilized.

THE funeral of Mr. William K. Nimick, yesterday, was very largely attended, and there was a very general manifestation of sorrow. The relations between himself and his surviving brother, were peculiarly tender, and the latter is deeply afflicted by the sudden blow that has befallen him in the death of his elder brother. Mr. Nimick was one of those quiet, retiring men, who never obtruded himself on others, and yet by his sterling qualities and strong manhood, was able to draw to him the confidence and affection of his associates. His loss will be severely felt in our city.

THE Cincinnati Commercial publishes advices as to the condition of the fruit and wheat crops from sixty-one towns in Ohio and thirty-one in Indiana. In Ohio peaches will be a complete failure; apples are but slightly injured. In regard to other fruit, one reports a good crop, twelve report half a crop, forty-eight report no crop at all. As to wheat, twenty-four report the crop uninjured, twenty-two half a crop and twelve no crop. In Indiana thirteen report the wheat crop uninjured, eight half a crop and nine no crop; fruit—three a good crop, seven half a crop and twenty-one no crop. Advices from ten towns in Western Pennsylvania indicate about half a crop of each of fruit and wheat.

IT is usually thought, in a controversy, that the party who gives way to anger is practically beaten. If this rule applies in the examination of witnesses, then is Fullerton, who is cross-examining Beecher, a badly beaten man; and with him the prosecution falls. He has gone beyond the bounds of decency and right, in badgering, insulting, and seeking to confuse Mr. Beecher. False statements, conclusions, and inferences are pushed upon him, in the hope that he may be entrapped. A rasping, garrulous, and insulting tone of voice is employed, and in many ways the effort is made to humiliate and anger him. We are willing to allow every necessary latitude to the work of cross-examination; but when Tilton was passing through this ordeal, he was not subjected to treatment of this character. It certainly has not been a shrewd course, as it has called forth the rebuke of the Judge several times, and cannot fail to make an unfavorable impression on the jury. Were we to admit the theory of the cross-examiner,—which is that Mr. Beecher has suppressed portions of truth, or sworn falsely, there is still no excuse for the bullying spirit manifested. A man may be a gentleman when performing a disagreeable as well as when engaged in pleasant duty,—that is, if he is a gentleman at all.

THERE is, probably always has been, and always will be, a prevailing cynicism which teaches that the olden time was full of all that is desirable and good, while the present is degenerate, fading, and vicious. George William Curtis hit off this evil very happily, in his Concord Address. Said he: "There is a cynicism which fondly fancies that in its beginning the American Republic moved proudly toward the future with all the splendid assurance of the Persian Xerxes descending on the shores of Greece, but that it sits to-day among shattered hopes, like Xerxes above his ships at Salamis. And when was this golden age? Was it when John Adams appealed from the baseness of his own time to the greater candor and patriotism of this? Was it when Fisher Ames mourned over lost America, like Rachel for her children, and would not be comforted? Was it when William Wirt said that he sought in vain for a man fit for the Presidency or for great responsibility? Was it when Chancellor Livingston saw only a threatening future, because Congress was so feeble? Was it when we ourselves saw the industry, the commerce, the society, the Church, the courts, the statesmanship, the conscience of America seemingly prostrate under the foot of slavery? Was this the golden age of these sentimental sighs, this the region behind the north wind of these reproachful regrets? And is it the young nation which, with prayer and faith, with untiring devotion and unconquerable will, has lifted its bruised and broken body from beneath that crushing heel, whose future is distrusted? Nay, this very cynicism is one of the foes that we must meet and conquer." There is truth in this. The olden times were not brighter, better, more hopeful and virtuous than the present. It is the glamour of distance that hides the defects of the past. There was a traitor even in the ranks of patriots at Concord, and a deserter to the British even at the battle of Bunker Hill.

IT is refreshing to receive, occasionally, a word of recognition from unexpected sources. The New York Tribune has this to say of our exports and imports. "In the fiscal year 1872 the value of our imports, as reckoned at the custom-houses, exceeded the gold value of the exports, counting merchandise only, by no less a sum than $182,417,491. In the year ended June 30, 1874, the value of the exports exceeded that of the imports by $18,995,747, and for the current year the excess of exports will be even greater. We are well aware that such a revolution in our foreign trade is largely the result of financial distress, and yet we think it is a salutary change. Everybody knows that individuals can carry borrowing to excess, and so can the aggregate of individuals constituting a nation. We believe the United States have been borrowing too much of foreigners. What we have borrowed, except that portion of the debt which arose from commissions, discounts, and profits of various kinds accruing to foreigners, must have come to us in the shape of merchandise imported, for which no merchandise was exported in return. We received it in the shape of railroad iron, silks, woolens, cotton goods, wines, diamonds, and other commodities. Now, if we are not actually paying the reckoning, we are certainly getting two hundred million dollars a year more to the credit side of our account than we had there three years ago." This is given as a "redeeming feature of the hard times," and such it is. It has forced us to stop going in debt, and illustrated that we can better our financial situation to the extent of $200,000,000 a year. Five years of this would catch up with our foreign indebtedness. The pith of the above, however, is the recognition of the doctrine that to export more than we import,—having the balance of trade in our favor, is evidence of financial soundness, as it is.

THE THIRD TERM ISSUE.

The rather impulsive declarations of the Cleveland Herald, relative to the probabilities of the Third Term agitation, has induced the question, "What are its probabilities, assuming that it is really thought of?" In other words, has President Grant the political influence to force his own renomination? We do not believe for a moment, that he is maneuvering to this end. He has given no intimation that he desires the renomination, and cannot fail to appreciate the fact that it will be a departure from established usage. But what are the chances of such a plan, if it is entertained, considered from a political standpoint? It is tolerably certain that there has been no declaration in favor of his renomination, and it is at least reasonable to assume that it will not be made, unless there is some show of its being followed by a successful canvass. Concerning all this, we are far from thinking that the utterances of independent papers at all reflect popular opinion. The public mind is simply quiescent, and while there is no developed sentiment outspokenly favorable to the third term, there is nothing distinctively against it. The simple truth is, the next canvass will turn on the tickets as made, and not on any predetermined purpose to oppose President Grant.

The nomination, therefore, will probably be uninfluenced by the clamor of Third Termism. If so, the simple question arises, what are the chances, as affairs now stand? It must be borne in mind that the South, if it sends full delegations, will come within fifty votes, in Convention, of controlling the nomination. At the South, the Third Term idea is rather popular, and even the Democratic party would be divided there were Grant renominated, as against the average Northern Democrat. Hence, we have only to assume that the South will be fully represented, and united in behalf of a Third Term, to see that it is entirely within the limits of the possible. Fifty votes for Grant in the entire list of Northern States would not only be possible, but exceedingly probable. Considered, then, merely in the light of a possible result in Convention, we insist that those who urge that there is no sentiment at the South favorable to a Third Term, are mistaken; and those who imagine the North to be a unit against it are equally at fault. So far as President Grant is concerned, we have not believed, and do not believe, that he has exerted, or will exert, the slightest influence toward a renomination. He has always been loyal to the people and party, and is so still. We do not, however, suppose he would decline a unanimous nomination.

A WORTHY RECORD.

The opposition press manifest some alarm at the reforms that have been recently made under the administration of President Grant. Their anxiety turns on the idea that he is showing so much strength and popularity as to endanger the success of their hostility against the Republican party. The selection of Bristow and Jewell, the reforms wrought out by them, the pacification of the Louisiana trouble, in a manner just to both parties, the firm maintenance of peace in all parts of the country, the evident purpose to protect the South in the full enjoyment of its rights, even when this involved the overthrow of his own party friends,—this, and much more has marked the President's recent course, strengthened his party and alarmed its enemies. It is further true that he has a firmer hold on the Government, and maintains obedience and order more completely among the subordinates of the Government, than Presidents have ever done before, in the third year of their closing term. In brief, he is President; and will be, up to the last day of his term of office. He has, also, a strong hold on the people, and we judge that even the Democracy, political necessities aside, entertain a decided respect for President Grant.

The force and strength of President Grant's administration, from beginning to the present,—is most strikingly seen when contrasted with the administrations of Buchanan and Johnson. The former, in the Kansas struggle, sympathized with the proslavery element, as against the moral sense of the country, disturbing thus the peace of the nation. Had the outrages perpetrated in Kansas by border ruffians been repressed, rather than encouraged, we should have kept clear, possibly, of the war of rebellion. While the free soil element was repressed and humbled, the proslavery faction was indulged, their pretensions apologized for, their warlike preparations permitted, and this till they were fully ready to make war upon us. The last distinctive Democratic administration the country has had, went out in darkness, with the rumblings of war and the premonitions of disaster in the very air. The most terrible misfortune that ever happened this country, was the entrusting Presidential power to James Buchanan. His party was traitorous, and he was weak. While it plotted war, he suffered the army and navy of the country, and its munitions of war to be scattered, or put in possession of its enemies.

Considered in some of its aspects, Andrew Johnson's administration, which was practically Democratic, was even worse. He came into power when the rebellion ended, and with a policy of reconstruction faintly shadowed by the martyred Lincoln. He had only to listen to Lincoln's advisers, and even preserve the tenor of his way to render the country brilliant service, and promote peace and quietness. He preferred conflict, and by insulting methods he managed to antagonize the party that gave him his honors, after which he bitterly fought it. Fear and restlessness fell upon the people, while the conquered rebel element gathered hope. The result was that reconstruction was delayed, and a factious spirit developed, which, at the South, took the form of Ku-klux organizations. Thus his term passed by in excitements and conflicts, and without any results of practical value.

President Grant has been in power nearly seven years. It cannot be pretended that evil has befallen the country, as the result of his policy. Firmness, prudence and care has marked his course on all questions requiring these qualities. Forbearance and an evident kindliness of feeling has been shown toward the South. Even reform that seemed practicable found him ready to consider and promote it. Our relations with foreign powers have been courteous and amicable, yet the dignity of the country has been maintained. He has intermingled freely with the people, been ready at all times to listen to all who had anything to communicate, and is known to be remarkably well acquainted, by personal observation and contact, with the sentiments and feelings of the people. Complicated political troubles have been judiciously managed, and amicably settled. A spirit of peace has pervaded his entire administration, and in all parts of the country it is felt that his administration means peace. As regards the panic and subsequent prostration of industry, we have steadily maintained, and hold that it can be demonstrated, that the commercial policy of the country, and not the political policy of the administration, is chargeable with the responsibility. The credit of the Government and its currency were in the hands of the administration, and these have been maintained. In brief, it has been a remarkably successful administration, in all its features. It will stand in history as one of the best the country ever had.

PERSONAL.

THE new Mayor of Toledo, O., Guido Marx, is an Israelite.

CARPENTER, the Indiana philanthropist, is 72 years of age, and resembles Horace Greeley in appearance.

THE will of the late Judge Roosevelt, of New York, has been admitted to probate. The estate is valued at $2,000,000.

SENATOR BOOTH, of California, is visiting his parents in Terre Haute, Ind., and is expected to remain for two or three weeks.

GATH calls Tilton "a vain giraffe, grazing on the ineffable." But you can't believe anything that fellow says; he's utterly unreliable.

THE death of Henry W. Dutton, proprietor of the Boston Transcript, throws another of the old Boston dailies on the market, the Post also being for sale.

MESSRS. MOODY and Sankey, after hammering away at the unrighteous masses of London, have now commenced on the ministers of that city, several of whom, says the cable, attended their meeting.

THE sum of $1,500 has been raised in New London, Conn., for the erection of a monument to Samuel Seabury, first bishop of the Episcopal Church in America, who was once a resident of that place.

AND now up jumps a man named Carter, in Massachusetts, and offers to swear that his father fired the first gun at the battle of Lexington. Perhaps—perhaps; but did the bullet hit a meeting-house or a boy?

GENERAL HARRISON ALLEN, who retires from the Auditor Generalship next week, will spend the Summer in Colorado. He has been a most efficient officer, and has earned a Summer's rest.

THE late Henry W. Dutton, of the Boston Transcript, has been identified with the art of printing longer than any man in Boston. He was foreman of a printing office in Boston in which James Gordon Bennett was copy-holder.

DANIEL WEBSTER'S large and valuable miscellaneous library is soon to be sold at auction in Boston. It has remained hitherto in the room of his country house in Marshfield, which he built for its reception—a Gothic room, with many alcoves, and with a window over the fire place.

WYLIE, the checker champion, has finally conquered America by his defeat of the Buffalo players, who have been considered the strongest in the country. He played in that city 276 games, losing 2, drawing 53 and winning 221. Mr. Hodges won 1 from the champion, lost 114 and drew 14. Mr. Mercer won 1, lost 15 and drew 12.

THE Harrodsburg (Ky.) Reporter of a recent date says: "This is Kentucky's centennial year. One hundred years ago Richard Henderson purchased from the Indians all Kentucky south of Kentucky River. One hundred years ago Daniel Boone surveyed the purchase for him. One hundred years ago Boone completed the fort at Boonsborough, in Madison county. One hundred years ago his wife and daughters came as the first women to Kentucky."

THERE is still a clatter about Mr. Beecher's scruples in swearing on the "Holy Book." This passage, from the cross-examination, ought to be conclusive: "Q. What were your conscientious scruples when you were asked to take the oath in this case? A. It did not appear to me, Mr. Fullerton, until after I came into Court here and heard various witnesses swearing on the Bible. I examined into the oath minutely, and when I came to swear I felt that I was unwilling to swear except by affirmation, though my private preference would have been the oath. But if I swore, in the ordinary sense of the term, I would swear by nothing else than by God, and not by any lower form or symbol of Divine presence."

THE proposition to call Mrs. Tilton as a witness in the Beecher trial meets with general approval. Her story will be a strange one, no doubt, but cannot fail to throw light upon the mysteries of the case.

AT the trial of the Guicowar of Baroda a man testified that he was a punkawallah. In all the hard names called in Brooklyn no one has equaled this. Neither Beecher nor Tilton has called the other a punkawallah.

THE Comptroller of the Currency, in accordance with a request of the Secretary of the Treasury, will immediately direct the bank examiners for the several districts, in course of their examinations of the different banks, to inspect all checks and vouchers required to be stamped with a two cent stamp, and report the facts in reference thereto, which information, when received, will be transmitted to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

IT is now stated, by authority, that the ceremony of imposing the berretta will take place in the cathedral, in New York city, Tuesday, the 27th inst. The committee for distributing tickets began their work on Tuesday, and will continue every day until all the invitations have been sent out. The tickets are printed in purple and the coat of arms and hat in carmine. In addition to some forty Archbishops and Bishops and about twelve hundred priests, it is expected that the President and Cabinet will be present, (?) also Governor Tilden and staff, and the municipal officers of the city.

LAST Saturday night, at St. Paul, Ind., an affray occurred between James Mondlove and his son David. Angry words first, then stones and clubs were used, when the son, who is a desperate character, and who was under the influence of whisky at the time, drew a revolver and fired three shots, the first missing, the second entering his father's left arm, near the shoulder, the third shot striking him on the left side, between the second and lower rib, from the effects of which, after lingering in extreme pain and agony, he died. The son was arrested soon after the shooting and taken to the county jail. Intense excitement prevails, and fears are entertained that the son will be taken out and lynched.

A DISPATCH from Kansas says: It is understood that the Indians who escaped from the Cheyenne agency on the 6th inst. are on the Cimarron river, about one hundred and fifty miles South of Fort Dodge, in which neighborhood they were rendezvoused at the beginning of the war last Summer. It is supposed that they have formed a junction with one or more of the bands that remained out during the Winter and that the whole force is probably about 500. They are evidently intent upon fighting. All the available troops at Fort Dodge and Fort Hays have been ordered out after them, with instructions to gather them in if it takes all Summer. Troops are also moving up from the South to engage them, and the military authorities are confident they can not escape a collision with one or the other of the forces marching against them.

Iron Trade Notes.

The price of Iron Mountain ore was reduced from $7 to $6 per ton, on March 25th, and about the same time the Meramec ores were reduced from $6 to $5.50 per ton. The prospects at the mines are said to be fair for an increased shipment of ores, over last season.

The Iron Mountain Iron Company are shipping about forty car loads of ore a day to St. Louis, and a large number of barges have left this point, since the opening of river navigation, loaded with ore for Pittsburgh and the Ohio Valley.

The Midland furnace, near Steelville, Mo., went into blast, for the first time, on the 10th inst. The results thus far are said to be entirely satisfactory.

The Irondale furnace, Washington county, Mo., went out of blast March 23d, after a run of sixteen months, the longest it had ever made. This furnace has a 9 1-2 foot bosh, and the average for the whole time was nearly twenty-two tons a day, a total of 10,306 tons, over 9,000 tons being No. 1 iron, which is certainly a very creditable record, and only exceeded by one furnace in Missouri—the Scotia.—St. Louis Railway Register.

POLITICAL NOTES.

HON. J. C. EVERHART, of Blair county, is mentioned for the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer.

THE tidal wave is rolling back from Canton, where a Republican ticket was elected for the first time in eight years.

THE next House of Representatives, by its delegations, will stand as follows: Democratic States, twenty-three; Republican, fourteen.

IT is stated that the delegates from Berks will present the name of Col. Charles B. McKnight, cashier of the National Union Bank of Reading, for State Treasurer.

EX-SENATOR CARPENTER'S friends are pushing him forward as the next Republican candidate for Governor of Wisconsin. His opponents say his candidature is the first move of his campaign for Senator Howe's seat in the United States Senate.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., has a Democratic city government, and its finances are demoralized. All orders on the city treasury are now indorsed "Not paid for want of funds," and draw interest at six per cent. till paid. The Journal sums up the situation as follows: "An empty treasury, an increasing debt, an anticipated revenue, and borrowing money to pay current expenses."

A BLAST AT POLYGAMY.

Grand Jury Charge of Judge Boseman at Beaver, Utah.

[From the Salt Lake Tribune.]

Polygamy or bigamy will require your attention. This is a crime that is very prevalent in this district and throughout the Territory. Its polluting effects are seen on every side and in every community. The children of said marriages are generally growing up as wild animals, without training, instruction or parental care. It is, of course, utterly impossible, except in isolated cases, for one father to look after the training of children separated and in various families, and there is generally little or no effort made to look after them. The consequences are seen all over the Territory, that polygamy in every phase of its character is degrading and beastly. It drags men down to the level of the beast. Woman is placed in the same social position. She is looked upon as a drudge and slave, fit only to perform the hardest work and to gratify the slavish passions of those to whom she believes herself married. She never hears the endearing name of wife, but always hears the cheerless title of "my woman." She knows nothing of love, and the charms of home are strangers to her. No section of the United States is filled with people so negligent as the families of Utah. Vice is very prevalent, and general degradation everywhere marks the footsteps of this loathsome crime. It is a crime that each of you knows is practised. Every community has numerous persons living in polygamy, and the leaders, nearly all guilty of this crime, persistently urge their deluded followers into committing the same degrading offence. Yet these very men will tell the world that they are law-abiding citizens! Such falsehoods are but too common, and men do not even hesitate to sometimes perjure themselves in regard to this offence. There are some men in polygamy whom I should not like to see punished. I refer to a few instances in which an honest and perfect separation has taken place between the parties; and I believe all good people would rather that none should be punished if they will but cut loose from the system. Some talk about polygamy as a part of their religion. So far as the more intelligent are concerned, this is the silliest nonsense. They do not think it to be so. They used to claim that blood atonement was a part of their religion, but elevating influences and better civilization showed this to be sanctioning cold-blooded murder. It is now almost if not entirely dead. So will this twin crime, polygamy, soon look to the eyes of the now deluded masses. The day is fast approaching when this hideous monster will be put out of sight as a thing too loathsome for public view.

Law and Romance.

A Justice of the Peace at Des Moines, Ia., has recently wrestled with a charming case. A physician of that city brought suit against an unmarried woman to recover for medical services, but his bill contained some items not necessarily connected with the art of Galen. Among the articles enumerated were "oister soop," potatoes, medicine and visits, eggs, wood, chair, groceries, crackers and wash-tub. Such a commingling of substantials and luxuries, of physic and potatoes, was never seen. The footing was $61, for all of which, less $2 cash and $4 for making shirts, the vender of pills brought suit. Neither party employed an attorney. The damsel defendant filed the following cross bill:

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 22, 1875.

A more moderate day was experienced at our banks yesterday than for several days previously. Such fluctuations are expected where the business is so entirely transient as it now is. There is, however, a revival in investments noticeable, there being more demand for mortgages than for a time back.

A long-talked of and important enterprise is on the verge of being contracted,—the Point bridge. Bids for masonry and iron work have been opened, and the contract is about to be awarded. Messrs. Joshua Rhodes, Thomas M. Carnegie, and others, have the enterprise in hand, and are urging it vigorously forward. The construction of the bridge involves an outlay of about half a million of dollars. It will complete our system of bridges, and make the city convenient of access from all surrounding points.

—The Chicago Inter-Ocean says of the monetary condition of that city: The supply of loanable funds in this market, and in fact in all the financial centers, is very large. Money is to be had in the open market here at 8 per cent. per annum for sixty or ninety days on any good collateral that is salable in this market, and at the banks discounts are freely made at 9 to 10 per cent. The supply of money offered for loan on mortgage of real estate at 8 to 9 per cent. per annum is also largely in excess of the demand; in fact, the amount of mortgages now being paid off is large enough to justify the belief that the aggregate of mortgage indebtedness in Chicago is diminishing. Present appearances also indicate the probability of a plethora of money in the principal cities within a month. A large amount of the loans which the Chicago banks have out now on provisions and grain in store will be paid up by that time. In New York rates of interest are very low now. The demand for commercial paper is ahead of the supply, and the banks are liberal buyers of prime paper at from 5 to 7 per cent., while demand loans on stocks and gold were quoted last week as low as the extraordinary rate of 2 per cent. per annum. A few days hence the Treasury will probably begin to anticipate the maturity of the May interest on the public debt, and within the next seventy days the disbursements for the May and July interest, together with the amounts due on the called bonds, will reach the enormous sum of $70,000,000. Besides these will come the disbursements for July interest on State, City and county bonds, and for the usual summer dividends on corporate stocks. Altogether the amount of money set afloat and thrown into the market between now and the 1st of July will be greater than in any similar period for many years. Of course a great deal of this will be due to foreign holders of American securities, but it is presumed that only a small portion of what is so due will actually go abroad. Money is already so abundant in London that there is not as good an opportunity for its investment there as here, and in view of the fact that European confidence in American securities is reviving we should expect that the great bulk of the amounts that will be due to European holders of American securities will be reinvested in this country. We cannot see how this can fail to cause a rise in all securities this summer, and the probabilities are that it will stimulate speculation in many sorts of investments and be the means of reviving industry and starting many new enterprises. It is now acknowledged on all sides that there is no reason why the United States, but particularly the West, should not have one of the most prosperous and active summers it has ever experienced.

—The calls for bonds now pending are $20,000,000 for the Syndicate and $30,000,000 for the sinking fund. The Syndicate calls are for bonds to be presented—$15,000,000 by the 1st of May and $5,000,000 the 1st of June. They have till the 31st of July to take the other $5,000,000 of their "firm" bid, which was $25,000,000. The sinking fund call of $30,000,000 involves the stoppage of interest on the 11th of June. The Syndicate are, so far as advices here are concerned, selling bonds in Europe as rapidly as was expected, and are doing better here than they were a short time ago. They will take the $25,000,000 anyhow, but expect to do much better. The sinking fund call is bringing bonds in rapidly, but has developed the fact that the bonds are mostly in Europe, and the expectation is that the holders generally will draw interest upon them until the last moment, when they can make exchange, in order to take advantage of a chance for profit.

—Since it was announced from Washington that the revenue officers have the legal right to enter the banks and examine the checks paid by them, it is said the banks "all over the country" are compromising with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for their failure to have stamps affixed to their checks. The amounts paid range from $25 to $500.

—The Iowa City National Bank has voted to wind up its affairs and go out of business. It was one of the most prosperous banks in the State, but concluded to give up its charter and circulation and realize on its bonds because it can make more money in another way.

—The recent failure of the old firm of Walter Brown & Co., wool dealers, of New York, develops the fact that there had been perhaps greater depression in the wool trade than in most other lines of business. Expenses have been heavy and profits have been very small.

NEW YORK, April 21, 1875.

Money was easy at 3@4; choice mercantile paper 4½; prime 5@6. Sterling was strong at 487@487¼ for sixty days and 490 for sight. The customs receipts were $332,000. Gold was weak, opening at 115, advancing to 115⅛, and closing at 114¾. Loans were made at 1 per cent., and flat for carrying and borrowing. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $371,000. The clearings were $22,000,000. The specie engagements for to-morrow are about $300,000. Government bonds are firm. Railroad mortgages are firm. A round lot of Union Pacific firsts were taken for German account at 99¾@100. Rock Island sevens brought 108½, and Michigan Southern sinking funds 108½. State bonds are dull.

Stocks opened steady, but soon became strong, except for Northwest and Lake Shore, which were weak. Union Pacific rose to 74¾, Panama to 141, Pacific Mail to 45¾, Kansas Pacific to 26¾, and Wabash to 16⅛. Northwest common declined to 42¼, and Lake Shore to 71⅝. At the close the market was generally firm, except Kansas Pacific, which declined to 22 on realizations. Union Pacific closed at 74⅜, after opening at 73½ and selling up to 74¾. Pacific Mail left off at 45, the extreme range of the day having been 44½@45 1-2. Panama closed at 140 1-2. The strength of these three stocks was due in part to the announcement that there had been a conference to-day between the officers of the different companies, and that the same was likely to lead to an early adjustment of all questions at issue; in fact, the buying movement, especially in Union Pacific and Pacific Mail, caused many to believe that the whole thing had been virtually settled. Wabash sold up to 16 1-2 and closed at 15⅞. Ohios were firm, rising to 27¾ and closing at that figure. Northwest and Lake Shore were weak as a general thing, but at the close Northwest recovered to 42⅜ and Lake Shore to 71⅛. Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph fell off from 27 to 26, and finally recovered to 26 3-4. The other changes were slight. The transactions aggregated 210,000 shares, of which 39,000 were Pacific Mail, 11,000 Western Union, 24,000 Northwest common, 13,000 Erie, 36,000 Lake Shore, 18,000 Ohios, 15,000 Wabash, and 39,000 Union Pacific.

The fine weather stimulated out-door business somewhat to-day, and there was a much more cheerful feeling in commercial circles in consequence. The general markets present no new or important features to which attention has not previously been drawn, excepting possibly that there was an easier tone in grain and provisions, under the influence of the advices from Chicago.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 21, 1875.

PITTSBURGH CENTRAL STOCK YARDS.

ARRIVALS.

Following were the arrivals of live stock at these yards from Sunday up until noon to-day, and, to afford a comparison, we append those of the corresponding week also:

	Cattle.	Hogs.	Sheep.
Sunday	58 cars.	56 cars.	16 cars.
Monday	52 "	16 "	19 "
Tuesday	44 "	16 "	20 "
Wednesday	38 "	16 "	18 "
Total	192 "	104 "	73 "
Same time last week	181 "	108 "	78 "

FREIGHTS.

Reports were received from Chicago to-day stating that the open rate on live stock from Chicago to New York has been reduced to 35c ₩ cwt, and it is supposed that heavy shippers will still be allowed drawbacks. The effect of this will be to curtail trade here, as there is now, according to the regular open rates, but 5c ₩ cwt difference in the cost of transportation between Chicago and New York and Pittsburgh to New York, as there has, so far as we have been able to learn, been no reduction made from this point eastward, 25 cents per cwt to Philadelphia and Baltimore, and 30 cents to New York. As might be expected, dealers here are complaining bitterly of the action of the railway officials in regard to the matter in question, and there is no getting over the fact that as the case now stands, it is a serious discrimination against trade here. With little or no difference in the cost of freightage, eastern shippers, instead of buying here as they have been accustomed to, will go to Chicago, and this accounts for the fact that all kinds of stock are bringing as much in Chicago as can be obtained in this market; distance does not appear to be taken into consideration. The trade here have no fault to find with the reduction, but they do contend that if the Penna. R. R. Co. can afford to carry stock from Chicago through to New York for 35c ₩ cwt, that they ought to carry it from here, if we are not mistaken half the distance, for considerably less than current rates. All they ask is simply justice, and to this they are certainly entitled.

Briggs, Dock & Drum, Wholesale Dealers and Commission Merchants for the sale of Live Stock, at the Central (East Liberty) Stock Yards, report as follows:

CATTLE.

The receipts, as will be seen, have been slightly below those of the corresponding time last week, and with a large proportion of these consisting of through consignments, the actual supply has been light, and with a diminished supply and a very fair attendance of buyers, the market, although it cannot be termed active, is strong at an advance of a ¼ to ⅜ of a cent on all grades, excepting stockers which continue dull in consequence of the cold backward weather. The most of the cattle sold up to this writing have been taken by country buyers and local butchers; Philadelphia buyers are holding off, unwilling to pay the advance, but as the advices, both from Chicago and New York, are favorable to the selling interest, owners are determined on having the advance, rather than they will ship on further east. Sales have been made as high as 7⅛c, and there was one carload on sale to-day for which 7⅛c was bid and refused. The fact is, cattle must go higher here, as prices are higher in the west, our main source of supply; there is now but little difference between here and Chicago.

HOGS.

The "run" of hogs thus far have been light as compared with the corresponding time last week, but trade is quiet and devoid of animation. The bulk of the receipts recently have consisted of light hogs, but the supply of prime heavy ones has been sufficient to meet the demand, which, owing to the fact that nearly all the Philadelphia buyers are buying more or less in Chicago, has been very considerably reduced, and the general position of this trade in all grades was very dull, yesterday it was not considered favorable. On Monday more active, and prices were put up from 15@20c per cwt, while to-day, notwithstanding the offerings were small, it was again dull, and the advance of Tuesday almost, if not altogether lost.

SHEEP.

The most important feature to notice is that the run has been larger than it was generally expected it would be, and about equally divided between shorn and unshorn; at this case last week, and for the same reason—cold weather—there was a more active demand for the former than the latter, and that, too, at relatively better prices. However, clippers sold full as well, if not better, than would reasonably be expected under the existing circumstances, although they ruled lower than last week while wooled, on the other hand, brought an advance.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, April 21, 1875.

The lull noted in our last report continues, and while the market is weak, there has, as compared with yesterday, been no quotable change in prices. Crude was quoted, for immediate shipment at Parker, at $1,65 per bbl; barge oil sold yesterday at $1,80—may be quoted to-day at $1,78@1,80. The receipts by river have been curtailed by low water, and until there is a rise, the offerings from this source are likely to be light. Refined continues dull but without quotable change: 11¼@11½ on cars here to go to Baltimore; 11½ was said to have been the best bid that could be obtained. Philadelphia delivery quotable at 13⅛, for prompt and 13⅞ for early May. Our refiners generally are indifferent about selling at current rates.

The market for Barrels continues quiet and unchanged; countries, $1,15@1,20; city make, $1,30, although as before noted, some coopers are refusing to sell below $1,35.

Chicago Lumber Market.

CHICAGO, April 20.—As yet the arrivals have been consigned to yard dealers, and there have been no cargoes offered on the market. Several vessels are due, however, and before the close of the week the season will be under way, although it will be a week or ten days before any considerable supply will be offered. A cargo of shingles, a part cargo of hard lumber, and a cargo of posts were offered on sale to-day. A cargo of choice mill-run to arrive from Grand Haven (largely strips) sold at $16.50. Regarding the season just opening, there is a general diversity of opinion, some operators anticipating a better, more satisfactory market than during the last season, while others do not seem to have much confidence in the trade. It is generally conceded, however, that there will be a good demand for joists, scantling, fencing, and common grades of boards and strips during the first few weeks of the season, but that good to choice qualities of inch will be rather slow. The "Lumberman's Board of Trade" and the "Lumber Exchange" have consolidated under the name of the "Lumber Exchange," and have given up the inspection and measuring department, so that buyers and sellers can now agree on their own inspector. The Michigan State rules of inspection will be the the standard rules.

In the yards dealers report a satisfactory demand for the lower grades of lumber and for joist, scantling and fencing. Stocks are well reduced and values firm, as follows:

Second clear	48.00@50.00

Cincinnati Horse Market.

CINCINNATI, April 20.—There is still an active inquiry by Eastern buyers for good driving Horses, and a fair demand for all other classes. A number of Philadelphia buyers are in the market. Sales in the Fifth street Auctions for the past week footed up 420 head, against 570 head for the preceding week. Of these sales shipments were made for the Virginias at prices ranging from $100 to $140 per head, and to Baltimore at from $85 to $115 ₩ head. General prices of Horses are: Plugs, $20@40; plow bags, $40@60; common work, $50@85; common drivers, $65@90, medium drivers, $90@100; street car, $85@110; Boston chunks $85@160; good harness Horses for home use, $120@150; extra harness Horses, $150@200; heavy draft, $150, $260 and $300. In the Mule market prices are as follows: Fourteen hands, $75@90; 15 hands, $110@135; 16 hands, $150@175. Well matched pairs of 16-hand Mules will bring $400.—Commercial.

ADVERTISED TO LEAVE TO-DAY.

Juniata, Cincinnati, 4 P. M.
Cherokee, Wolfe, New Orleans, 4 P. M.

THE stage of water last evening was 7 feet 4 inches and stationary. Weather clear and cool; no improvement to note in business, although we are in hopes, in view of the fact that most of the iron and nail mills have been started up, that there will soon be a revival.

THE Rhoads did not get out until early Wednesday morning.

THE Shannon is en route from Nashville—she will load here for St. Louis.

CAPT. BEN. F. EAGAN, an old and well-known Nashville boatman, is on a visit to Cincinnati.

THE J. S. McDonald, Lioness No. 2 and Joseph H. Bigley arrived at Cincinnati yesterday with tows of coal.

IT is said that the Shannon has orders on Pittsburgh parties for three hundred tons of Cumberland River freight.

THE J. N. Camden passed Wheeling for Pittsburgh on Tuesday with a load of railroad ties and empty oil barrels.

CAPT. E. V. HOLCOMB has quit hotel-keeping, and is Superintendent of the Kittson line of steamers for the far north.

CAPTAIN JAMES A. YORE sold the Pauline Carroll on Tuesday, at St. Louis, to David Campbell, who will wreck her.

THE steamer West Virginia has received the contract to carry the mails from Gallipolis to Charleston, for two years from July 1st, 1875.

THE Mallie Ragon from Wheeling, arrived and departed, and the Exchange from Cincinnati, arrived, also the towboat Fred Wilson No. 2.

THE Exchange will load for Cincinnati after the Juniata. Capt. Sam Shuman is in command, and Messrs. Harbison and Dales have charge of the office.

THE new steamer Benton is doing some tall running up the Missouri, having arrived at St. Joe at 10 A. M. Sunday. McGeary is trying for the horns this trip.

THE steamer Thomas Sherlock, from New Orleans, has the following freight to this end of the river: Wheeling, 14 hhds. sugar; Pittsburgh, 4 bales moss.

IT is feared that Frank James, engineer of the Tennessee steamer R. M. Bishop, will lose his leg, or at least the use of it, by an accident that befell him last week.

THE Wild Duck barges are announced for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi forthwith. She will give through rates to Nashville and points on the Missouri River.

THE Cherokee, Capt. Wolfe, as will be seen by card, is announced to take her departure for New Orleans to-day; she is an A 1 boat in all respects, and she goes clear through.

THE fine side-wheeler Juniata, Capt. Brennan, will positively take her departure for Cincinnati to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind and be governed accordingly.

IT has been determined to expend the $40,000 appropriation by the last Congress for the improvement of the Wabash River, upon Little Chain, Warrick Ripple, and closing the chute of New Harmony Island.

THE Vicksburg Herald, of Saturday, says:—"Some parties have been trying to force the cut-off opposite this city by the use of powder and torpedoes. The attempt was first discovered yesterday morning, about two o'clock, when the first of the torpedoes exploded."

A LATE Memphis paper says:—We learn that the two Arkansas River lines have arranged matters satisfactorily by each line withdrawing one boat—the Mary Boyd, from the Elliott Line, and the Fort Gibson, from the Harbin Line, having gone into retirement. Captains Harvey and Newland have chartered the Legal Tender for the season at $1,500 per month. Captain Nowland will command.

THE St. Louis Globe of Tuesday says: Mr. Frank Courtant, a well known Missouri river pilot, was taken to his last resting place yesterday; he was buried with Masonic honors, as he was a worthy member of the ancient fraternity. Mr. Thos. W. Rees, of the Duquesne Iron Works, paid him a flying visit here yesterday on business with Capt. Darragh. Every arrangement for rebuilding the Paragon was made and he returned home last evening.

CAPT. J. ALEX. FRAZIER, now pilot on the Shannon, in 1856 commanded the Swallow, the first gunboat that ever appeared on the Western waters. In 1861 this old craft was gobbled up by the military authorities at Cairo, and ordered to seize the C. E. Hillman, en route from St. Louis to Nashville, laden with provisions destined South, and a large supply of ammunition stores for the State of Tennessee, which at that time had passed no order of secession.

THE annual meeting of the stockholders of the United States Mail Line Company was held in Louisville on Monday, and the following gentlemen were elected Directors to serve during the ensuing year: Z. M. Shirley and W. C. Hite, of Louisville; Thomas Gaff, of Aurora; Jonathan Barker and Thomas Sherlock, of Cincinnati. Subsequently the above Directors held a meeting, and re-elected Thos Sherlock as President, and Mahlon M. McCullough as Secretary and Treasurer.

YESTERDAY'S Cincinnati Commercial says:—The Shannon was detained discharging cargo last night, but will depart for Pittsburgh to-day. Captain Ben. F. Egan will extend his trip to Pittsburgh on the Shannon. Pilots Bobo and Rowley take the Shannon to Pittsburgh......The Eureka reshipped 646 sacks of wheat for Pittsburgh on the Telegraph, which will be reshipped at Ironton, on the R. W. Skillinger......Captain Brown has purchased 400,000 bushels of coal in boats, at West Louisville, from Miller & Co., of Pittsburgh......The Bengal Tiger, Sam Parker, Nellie Speer, Enterprise, and Dick Fulton No. 2 arrived from Pittsburgh with tows of coal.

Death of James S. Patterson.

Mr. James S. Patterson, ex-Mayor's Clerk, died suddenly last night of heart disease, at the residence of his brother on Penn avenue. Until recently the deceased, who is very well known in this city, had been engaged in the tea business on Fifth avenue, but not long since he quit that branch of trade and went to Chicago, where he remained but a short time until he returned to this city.

A New Firm.

Limitation has dissolved the reputable firm of Geo. H. Stover & Co., and in its stead has been inaugurated the new one of Kay, McKnight & Co. This must be good news to the business community, as the members of the new firm are possessed of every requisite for success in trade, and for genial and agreeable business relations. It is safe to predict that every feature of their business will be conducted with energy, activity, honesty, and cordiality, as special characteristics. Mr. Kay, a gentleman of very superior business attainments, has been for many years connected with the old firm of Geo. H. Stover & Co., and brings to the new management a ripened experience and extensive acquaintance. We ask for the firm a liberal patronage, as we feel assured they merit the full measure of success.

The Death of Mr. Hays.

Yesterday the Coroner held an inquest on the body of Mr. Jacob Hays, who committed suicide at the family residence, Fair Haven, on Tuesday afternoon. The evidence went to show that the deceased had been injured on the head by being thrown from a horse about eighteen months ago, and that since that time he had been subject to fits of mental aberration. He was in continual fear that his business arrangements would end disastrously and he would come to want. Every little circumstance seemed to give him uneasiness. The endorsement of the note referred to yesterday—an endorsement for which he had most ample security—was only one among many imaginary troubles which preyed upon his mind and at last prompted him to commit suicide. His mental aberration was caused solely by the hurt he received at the time he was thrown from the horse.

The jury, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death by suicide while laboring under a temporary fit of insanity.

THE McCULLY BOND.

The Trial Still [p]roceeds in the Common Pleas Court No. 1.

In the case of Clark against Frew et al which has been on trial f[...] two or three days in the Common Pleas Court No. 1, but few further particulars were brought out yesterday in addition to what has been already been spoken of. Only a few witnesses were examined, the most important of whom probably was Major Frew. The drift of the testimony of the Major was to the effect that the signature to the bond of frendship was not genuine. He further testified as to the careless business habits of the deceased and of his willingness to do a friend a favor, often affixing his signature to notes, for accommodation, when he did not know the amount of the same.

The defense will be closed some time today when the plaintiff will introduce rebutting testimony. The case will not be submitted to jury before Saturday and probably not even by that time. It is exciting considerable interest and the verdict of the jury will be awaited with great interest.

DISCHARGED.

"Tim" Davis is Released from Custody.

It will be recollected that a few days ago, one "Tim" Davis was arrested on an information made by James Cunningham, of Lawrenceville, on a charge of raising a one dollar legal tender note to five dollars. The defendant had a hearing before United States Commissioner McCandless yesterday, and as the evidence showed that the wrong man had been arrested, he was discharged. The testimony for the defense proved that at the time the note in dispute was passed, (which was said to be on Saturday evening, April 10th, at about eight o'clock) Davis was in another saloon engaged in playing games for beer. Still another reason for the discharge of the prisoner was that his name was Evan Davis and not "Tim," as was stated in the information. One of the witnesses for the prosecution testified that there were some bills of the character of the one named in circulation in Lawrenceville, and that he took it upon himself to work the matter up and thought everything pointed to Davis as the guilty man, but the witness for the defense cleared up every doubt as to the whereabouts of the defendant at the time the note came into the hands of the prosecutor.

DEATH FROM HEART DISEASE

A Woman Dies Suddenly at the Ralston School House Last Night.

Last night a school exhibition was held in Ralston school house in the Ninth ward which was largely attended by friends of those who took part in the exercises. Among those who were in attendance were Mr. Wilvraham and his wife Isabella. The entertainment had not proceeded far until Mrs. W fainted away and had to be carried out into the open air. She recovered in a few minutes and again returned to the room to witness the remaining part of the exercises, when she was again taken suddenly ill and on being conveyed to the lower part of the building, began to grow worse, so that her condition assumed rather an alarming aspect. She was carried into the principal's room, and Dr. Duncan summoned, but before the physician arrived the woman had expired. The Coroner was notified, and went to the school-house and empanneled a jury, and a verdict was rendered of "death from heart disease." The unfortunate lady was fifty-three years of age, was of English descent, lived at No. 10 Beach alley, off Bedford avenue, and leaves a husband and family. Mr. Wilvraham was deeply affected as he stood by and learned that the life of his wife could not be saved.

DONALDSON, THE ÆRONAUT.

His Death by Violence Reported but Afterward Contradicted.

Considerable excitement was created in the city last night by the receipt of a telegram stating that Prof. W. H. Donaldson, the famous æronaut, had been instantly killed yesterday while making a balloon ascension from Philadelphia, where Barnum's Hippodrome is now exhibiting. The news remained uncontradicted until about one o'clock this morning, when a second dispatch was received conveying the information that the intrepid balloonist was safe. Professor Donaldson is well known in Pittsburgh because of his exploits in the air when Barnum was here last summer. He was accompanied in one of his ærial journeys by a GAZETTE representative, whose lengthy and vivid account of their dangerous trip after night and final landing in a spur of the Allegheny mountains is well remembered. The first ascension at Philadelphia was made on Saturday, when Mr. Donaldson was accompanied by a number of the attaches of the newspapers of that city. It commenced and ended safely. The balloon used is not the "P. T. Barnum" in which the ascensions were made in Pittsburgh last year, but is a new one manufactured in New York during the past winter, and is the largest in this country.

Since Saturday Mr. Donaldson has been making his trips alone, and in the one undertaken yesterday, which was his 105th, the balloon, as will be observed by reference to our telegraph columns, became unmanageable near Atco, New Jersey, and he was obliged to cut the basket and let the sphere go. He was safe last night at Cake's Hotel, Berlin, N. J. How the landing was effected is not stated. We congratulate the Professor upon his escape.

LAID TO REST.

Funeral of the Late Wm. K. Nimick—Tribute of Respect.

The funeral services of the late Wm. K. Nimick took place yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, from the family residence, corner Penn avenue and Fourth street. The coffin was of rosewood, silver-mounted and with massive silver handles. It was lined with white satin, and on the under side of the lid was a large plate inscribed with the name and age of the deceased. It rested upon a bier, which was tastefully decorated with rare hot-house flowers and evergreens. At the head of the coffin was a pedestal covered with white satin and entwined with evergreen, bearing a crown made of the most fragrant flowers. The following gentlemen were selected as pall-bearers: B. F. Jones, A. E. W. Painter, C. B. Heron, Alex. Bradley, Wm. M. Hersh, John D. Scully, Chas. Speer, Wm. H. Singer. The remains were deposited in the Allegheny Cemetery. The funeral was attended by persons of all ranks, classes and professions, who thus testified the universal esteem in which the deceased had been held. It was one of the largest funerals ever known in this section, and was a genuine expression of respect for the memory of one who was worthy of the highest esteem.

A TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company, held April 21, 1875, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, We have been advised of the decease on April 19th inst., of William K. Nimick, a member of this Board since February 23d, 1864.

Resolved, That in the death of William K. Nimick this Board has lost a valued member, and the community an active and influential citizen.

Resolved, That the sympathy of the members of the Board be tendered to the bereaved family of the deceased in their affliction.

Resolved, That the Secretary transmit a copy of these resolutions to the family of deceased.

THE POINT BRIDGE.

Bridge Builders After the Contract—The Proposals—A Heavy Job.

Yesterday morning the proposals for the erection of a new suspension bridge across the river at the Point, were opened at the office of Joshua Rhodes, Esq., and from the number of bidders and the close biding, it was evident that the bridge builders were anxious to get the heavy contract. The bids were as follows:

THE MASONRY WORK.

John T Gordon	$219,220 80
Forester & Alston	190,049 10
J. P. & R. H. Knox	187,033 00
Mackin & Fridar	183,563 60
R. Henderson & Co	174,137 00
John Megraw	167,959 20
Samuel B. White	165,985 80
Jas. Harrison & Co	165,117 80
John Swan & Co	164,779 00

FOR SUPERSTRUCTURE AND SUBSTRUCTURE.

John A. Roebling & Sons, N. Y.:
Superstructure only	$302,717 00
Chas. McDonald, N. Y.:
Superstructure	264,720 00
Substructure	160,592 00
Total	$425,312 00
American Bridge Company, Chicago, for completion of the whole bridge—
One plan	$404,959 80
Another plan	359,000 00
Flad & Pfeifer, St. Louis—
Substructure	$205,520 00
Superstructure	185,294 50
Total	$390,814 50
Detroit Bridge Company—
Superstructure	$171,700 00
Milwaukee Bridge Co., completion of bridge—
Plan No. 1	$372,000 00
Plan No. 2	382,000 00
Plan No. 3	392,000 00
Plan No. 4	402,000 00
John A. Green, New York.
For completion of bridge, one plan	$430,117 00

The only bids which were in exact accordance with the plans were those of Mr. Green, Mr. Roebling, Mr. McDonald, and the American Bridge Company. The bridge is to be a "suspension," and to have a span of eight hundred feet. One of the bidders proposed to build it on a new plan, known as the arch—consisting of an arch springing from each shore, which at its keystone would be eighty feet above the floor. This is a novelty, but perfectly feasible, and is claimed to have some advantages which commend it. The other plans save those which we have noted, are all modifications of the original plan which was prepared by City Engineer Davis, of Allegheny, and has been adopted by the Board.

The award will not be made for several days yet, as some time will be taken to compare the bids.

The Central Hotel.

Among the recent changes in hotel management in our city, it is with pleasure that we note that Mr. J. P. Walsh, for some years one of the proprietors of the St. Clair Hotel, has become associated with Mr. J. G. Barr as proprietor of the Central Hotel on Smithfield street, this city, having bought the interest of Dudley Barr. The name of the new firm will be Barr & Walsh. Mr. Walsh is so well-known to the resident and traveling public that he needs no introduction at our hands. Bred, and almost born, in the hotel business, he knows it thoroughly. Gentlemanly at all times, accommodating to the letter and fully acquainted with the wants of the traveling public, Mr. Walsh is just the man to make the Central the leading hotel of Pittsburgh. With his partner, Mr. Barr, we anticipate a brilliant future for the Central. The house is, as its name indicates, located nearer the centers of business than any hotel in the city. It is now being thoroughly renovated and improved—painters, paper hangers, and other artisans unite with the wielders of soap and brush, to place the entire house in the best of order. An elegant saloon, billiard and reading rooms, with barber shop, bath rooms, &c., are in the building.

Mr. Walsh has been successively clerk, superintendent, manager and proprietor in the hotel line in this city, and is, in reality, "a self made man." Mr. Barr is to be congratulated on securing him as partner in the Central, as it is most apparent that all who know Mr. Walsh, and they are legions, will go where he is. Call in and congratulate him.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

"Leah, the Forsaken," was played last night, with Miss Western in the title role. Her impersonation of this very difficult character was quite satisfactory to the audience, and she was warmly applauded for her fine acting, though it seemed as if she occasionally relaxed in force. In the curse scene particularly, where she launched withering invectives upon her recreant lover, and invoked a blight upon his whole future life, her acting was superb, and showed her to be thoroughly able to meet the most difficult requirements of the part. When the act closed she was called before the curtain. Miss Western's support lacked strength, and the maintenance of the interest of the play depended chiefly upon her.

To-night Miss Western appears in "The Child Stealer," a drama with which her name is always associated.

Lovers of pleasure who are at a loss where to go this evening that its hours may be spent most pleasantly, will find their highest expectations gratified by dropping in at the new School Hall, Fourth ward, Allegheny, where a grand entertainment is to be given for the benefit of the Canal Mission Sabbath School. Aside from the meritorious character of the performance, and the enjoyment which will result thereby to the attendant, the object is one which appeals strongly to the sympathy of those who would aid a worthy enterprise.

MR. THEODORE THOMAS was presented with $1,000 by the directors of the Brooklyn Philharmonic Society on Saturday evening. The presentation was made behind the scenes during the intermission of the concert, and was entirely informal, the money being handed to Mr. Thomas in a sealed envelope, and no speeches being made on either side.

THE London Athenæum thinks the American cabinet organ "is no more agreeable to the ear than is the stentorian power displayed by Mr. Sankey as a singer." Sankey's voice, it says, has "the baritone timbre, or the low French tenor quality, such as is required in 'Zamba' or 'Fra Diavolo,' and which the late Chollet had in an eminent degree. With assiduous cultivation, Mr. Sankey's voice might have been turned to good account as an opera singer.'

THE spelling contest between thirty young ladies of Washington and thirty young men of the College, on Friday evening, was largely attended. When the contest closed at a late hour, there were eleven ladies and seventeen gentlemen standing.

ACCORDING to reports from all parts of Fayette county, the growing wheat makes as fine appearances as could be wished. All the wheat fields are as green as the meadows, indicating that if nothing intervenes to retard its progress, a bountiful yield will be harvested.

A QUIET, peaceable gentleman of Oil City has recently given up business, sent his family into the country, and calmly announced his determidation to devote the remainder of his life to discover the man who sent him a paving stone by express, with $17 express charges on it.

THE New Castle (Lawrence county) Guardian says: There is a married lady living within three miles of this city, who within the past fourteen years has had eleven children at five births. Four births were twins, the fifth triplets, consisting of two boys and a girl, are only a few weeks of age.

IKE DORSEY, a Warren county lumberman, bought a curry comb, put it in his coat tail pocket, went to church, sat down on the insinuating side of it, hopped out into the aisle with a "war-whoop," was rebuked by the preacher, and thrown out of doors by the sexton, all in three minutes, church time.

THE Bedford County Press says that Miss Annie Hillegas, of Juniata township, that county, caught a live swan on the 25th ult., near the residence of her uncle. The swan appeared to have been exhausted and come to terra firma and was unable to rise again. It measured seven feet and four inches from tip to tip across the wings.

THE Erie County Republican Committee met last week, and elected Hon. Henry Souther as Senatorial, and J. R. Sterrett, G. D. Price, S. V. Holliday and C. O. Bowman as Representative Delegates to the Republican State Convention. They were instructed to vote for Hartranft for Governor, and Henry Rawle, of Erie, for State Treasurer.

A MAN named Jacob Stoup, a resident of Wellersburg, Somerset county, was arrested near the Maryland line a few days ago, on the charge of murdering a Mr. Welch, whose dead body was found in a small stream known as Will's Creek, in that neighborhood. After a preliminary examination Stoup was sent to the Cumberland jail to await trial.

DR. A. G. EGBERT, Congressman of the 27th District, has appointed Edward Thompson, of Franklin, to the naval cadetship at Annapolis. The youth thus selected is fifteen years old, and son of Wm. A. Thompson, who was blown to atoms by a torpedo, near Bully Hill, in 1871, leaving a widow and family of small children in straightened circumstances.

IT was briefly thus: Mr. Zook, of Mifflin county, lost his pocket book containing $640, and offered $100 for its recovery. Mr. Solomon Yoder found and forwarded it, and the $100 was remitted to him promptly. Then Mr. Yoder returned the reward, with the very emphatic sentence written in his letter: "I don't wish to be paid for being honest." Affecting tableau.

NORMAN McCORMICK, a young attorney of Franklin, and son of Associate Judge McCormick, was found dead in a small house on the cemetery road, Thursday afternoon. About noon he slipped from a plank while crossing a little stream, and was taken by a friend into the nearest house for shelter. He fell asleep on the floor, nor was it known that death had supervened till an effort was made to arouse him.

THE man who carries the mail at Union City from the trains to the office, is a clever fellow but absent minded. The other night the train was late, and he reclined on the floor, pillowed his head on a dog, while he held the mail bag in his hand. When the train came in he awoke, gave the mail bag a kick, and seized the dog by the cuff of the neck and tail and started for the mail car. The messenger told him the dog was not properly stamped.

ANTHONY S. ELY, ESQ., a prominent citizen of Lebanon, died of erysipelas and typhoid fever Thursday, after an illness of two weeks. He was Deputy Prothonotary of the county in 1846-47, and Clerk of the Quarter Sessions and Orphans' Court from 1848 to 1850; Deputy Sheriff in 1854 and 1855; Justice of the Peace from 1855 to the present time; Jury Commissioner in 1867-68-69; United States Revenue Commissioner of Lebanon and Dauphin counties in 1860; United States Marshal and deputy collector of internal revenue of Lebanon and Schuylkill counties from 1861 to 1867; member of the Legislature in 1872, and one of the commissioners to assess the Chambersburg fire damage, appointed by Governor Curtin. He was also a prominent Mason. At the breaking out of the rebellion he was one of the first to go forth and defend the Union.

Views of Mr. Siney.

The Philadelphia Times of Tuesday says: "Mr. John Siney, President of the Miners' National Union, was in Philadelphia, on his return to his home at Cleveland, and left last night for that place. He says he sees no prospect of an immediate adjustment of the troubles. He had an interview yesterday with Mr. Gowen on the subject, but they could not agree upon the terms. Mr. Siney, in the course of a conversation with the writer, expressed hsmself in favor of arbitration, but said that of course he could not control the matter. When questioned in regard to the financial condition of the strikers, he replied: 'They seem to be getting along pretty well.'"

A Durable Artificial Stone Pavement.

Experience has demonstrated that the best material for pavements yet discovered is the artificial stone. It contains all the hardness of stone, without its roughness and other disadvantages. Some of this kind of pavement, laid in this city four years ago, is as good as when put down. Artificial stone has stood the severest tests, resisting the frosts of winter, the heat of summer, and the wear of constant use. It makes a smooth and cheap pavement, and not an instance of failure has occurred when the work has been properly done. For flooring for cellars, malt houses, breweries, etc., it cannot be excelled. For any information, for satisfactory reference, and for work in artificial stone, call at the office, No. 71 Federal street, Allegheny. TTHS

FAYETTE COUNTY.

Mineral Resources of Catt's Run.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

There appears to be a close connection between the Connellsville and Catt's Run coal seams. The former lies in a basin, being the first flexure west of the Allegheny mountains; following this basin south from Connellsville we find that Uniontown is nearly equi-distant from the eastern and western out crops, being over the synclinal axis and about 100 feet above the coal at Mr. Henry Beason's cement quarry. At a point between Brownfieldtown and Cheat river the synclinal's eastern and western out-crops are almost on a horizontal line, merging into the eastern out-crops of the Catt's Run basin, capping the hills towards the mountains and finally disappearing through the influence of the Appalachian eruption and subsequent denudation. South of this the Catt's Run basin becomes the first flexure west of the Allegheny mountains.

Catt's Run empties into the Mononghahela river in Pool No. 6, Fayette county. Near the mouth, the stream cuts through the Pittsburgh coal a double bed fourteen feet in thickness; the lower bed is from eight to nine feet pure coal; the upper alternate layers of coal and shale.

About ten feet above this is a seam of cannel shale, containing very little volatile matter, though on the opposite side of the river it has been mined for domestic use and burns quite freely. It is rich in fatty substance and is from five to seven feet thick. Twenty-five feet above the Pittsburgh seam is the Redstone coal, thickness about four feet resting on three feet of limestone, beneath which is a small vein of iron ore (protoxyde of iron); this strata is disclosed at a cut in the road near the orchard of Mr. John Poundstone. A short distance above this commences the great limestone formation of the upper coal measures from sixty to one hundred feet in thickness, containing the different varities of the carbonate of lime.

Near the middle of the limestone and one hundred and fourteen feet above the Pittsburgh seam, is the Sewickley coal, five feet thick, good grate coal and free from slate. This seam rests on cement rock, the same stratum extensively used by Mr. Beason at his mills, Uniontown. About two hundred feet above the Sewickley coal is the Waynesburg seam, thickness six feet.

About one mile from the mouth of the stream it has cut down the strata forty or fifty feet below the Pittsburgh coal. The seam at this point rests upon a true coal base four feet in thickness, beneath which is found thirty inches of ore (carbonate of iron), being the same vein now extensively used at Dunbar Furnace. Below this twenty inches argillaceous shale, resting on four to eight inches ore, known as flag ore; this rests on about four feet of blue lump shale, containing lump ore, shaped like flat loaves of bread, weighing from one pound to three hundred pounds, being similar to the ore worked for many years by Mr. Olephant, at Fairchance Furnace. Below this is a double bed of calcarious ore, the lower fifteen to twenty inches thick; the upper six to eight, separated by one foot of bituminous shale. Estimating the ore at 33 cents and cost $1.50 per ton, coke 2 1-2 cents per bushel and limestone $1 per ton, it is the opinion of men experienced in the iron business, that a furnace could be built here that would produce pig-iron which could be laid down in Pittsburgh at $15 per ton, with a fair profit.

If this be true, the erection of such a furnance would certainly be a step in the right direction for disposing of the vexed question—tariff on iron. SUBSCRIBER.

CHERRY TREE LETTER.

Miss Baker's Lecture—Winter Continues—A Mistaken Estimate, &c.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

CHERRY TREE, April 20, 1875.

Yesterday evening the people of our village were favored with a lecture of more than ordinary merit by Miss Anna M. Baker, daughter of an aged minister of the Gospel. Her subject was "Both Sides of Life." The lecture was full of good stirring thoughts, conveyed in appropriate language, gracefully delivered. Miss B. has been in the lecture field for several years, and has succeeded well. She spent the last year in the far West. Lecture Committees need not fear to employ her. She will give satisfaction.

WINTER CONTINUES.

We have had seven days of winter in succession, with snow on the ground all the time, and some of the time the mercury nearly down to zero. We have several inches of snow this morning. In our note of a week ago we gave it as our opinion that the ten inches of snow that had just fallen would furnish water enough in the Susquehanna river to float the spring crop of timber to market, but we were mistaken. A great many rafts are still lying along the way. Floating rafts and saw-logs at the same time, is troublesome business, especially to raftsmen, causing gorges and delaying them; some times breaking rafts to pieces. It will require another good rise in the river to take all to market that is on the way.

Farming and gardening operations are very much retarded by the cold and snowy weather, still we are hoping for a productive season Yours, &c. C.

The Gold of the Black Hills in the Shade—The Rush Crowd Unabated—Every Sale a Bargain.

Many persons do not understand why such crowds congregate at the jewelry store of Geo. Crawford & Co., No. 82 Fifth avenue, but did they know of the great bargains in fine watches, chains, diamonds, rings, silver and silver plated ware, which are to be had at the auction sale of jewelry now going on at this house they would cease to wonder. This sale has never been equaled in the city for the sale of rich and elegant goods at prices so low. Selling at less than cost is a tame expression, for many goods are bought at less than half cost. Go soon if you want something fine in the line of jewelry, for almost nothing. The goods must be sold.

Attention, Builders and Contractors.

Walker & Co., of No. 372 Penn street, have in stock and manufacture to order a great variety of Building material such as plain and fancy Window Caps, Door Caps, Belting Courses, Brackets, Scrolls, Modallions, Quoins, Consolas, Corbels, Rosettes, Column Capitals, Mouldings, Copings and Window and Door Lintels. All these are of various grades of quality, design and finish.

The Signs of Health.

Health invariably declares itself by visible signs. A person with a sallow, haggard visage and attenuated frame may declare that he is "in perfect health," but, if it does, don't believe him, for he is not. His looks belie him, and his asseveration is mere bravado. Few persons, except hypochondriacs, desire to be thought unwell. A fresh complexion, a clear eye, a happy expression, and an absence of leanness, indicate that their possessor enjoys good digestion sound sleep and a vigorous circulation, three essentials of health which are fortunately not beyond the reach of invalids. The surest medium for their attainment is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which by purifying the blood banish sallowness, and by promoting perfect digestion and sound sleep, keep the body well nourished, and impart to the face the placid expression indicative of a clear and unwearied mind. The Bitters are far more conducive to good looks than any cosmetic that ever humbugged the credulous.

To their Original Beauty and Brightness
Without removing the same from the floor, or requiring the removal of furniture from the room, a convenience which every housekeeper will appreciate. The old system of carpet beating and shaking will free a carpet of the loose dirt only, the dirt which has hardened the wool and defaced the colors, as well as grease stains and coal smoke will not be removed. Through our process carpets will be thoroughly renovated and cleaned. We can positively state, no matter how old and soiled a carpet may be as long as the nap is not injured, the same can be restored to its original beauty.
